

Emily Jackson

I want to create a minimalist site that does not utilize a lot of page heavy, intense, blaring design but is thoughtful and clean and user friendly. So, the wireframe is more focused on the look. I may find this concept will change once I get into bootstrap because if the point of the project is to get more familiar with bootstrap and this design doesn't facilitate that – I'll adapt it and use this for a rainy day.

Form

A contact form UI mockup on a dark gray background. In the top right corner, there is a white circular button with three horizontal lines. The form itself is a large white rounded rectangle in the center. It contains four input fields: a text field for 'name //', a text field for 'email //', a text area for 'kind message //', and a 'send' button. Each input field has a placeholder text: 'who am i', 'where am i', 'what should i say', and 'send' respectively. At the bottom of the form, there is a white rounded rectangle containing the text 'copyright 2021 // contact // privacy policy // social'.

Content Page

A content page UI mockup on a dark gray background. In the top right corner, there is a white circular button with three horizontal lines. The content area is a large white rounded rectangle in the center. It contains the following text: 'Low Carbon Web Design //', 'My name is Emily Jackson and I am an aspiring UX / UI designer. Design can make or break your web presence which make or break your bank if you are a business. Websites should put the user at the center of all their design.', 'I specialize and highly appreciate:', a list of four bullet points, 'Lorum ipsum loraum pja'k, 'kasfasdfp', and 'copyright 2021 // contact // privacy policy // social'.

Low Carbon Web Design //

My name is Emily Jackson and I am an aspiring UX / UI designer. Design can make or break your web presence which make or break your bank if you are a business. Websites should put the user at the center of all their design.

I specialize and highly appreciate:

- minimalist websites that don't utilize out of the box templates
- flat design without overused primary colors
- brutalist design
- emphasis on accessibility
- low carbon web design - > read more
